

CHEESE EXPERIENCE

shepherds and sicilian cheeses

The job of shepherd in the Sicilian land is still lived with unchanging times and trends. We will spend the day with some of these young shepherds who have given up everything to carry on the family trade of four generations. The day also includes a visit to a small dairy where a mother and father dedicate everyday to the production of ricotta and other cheeses. The experience can be enriched by an encounter with different pastoral realities such as: "the sheep herder", "the goat herder" and "the cow herder", each one with his own story, experience and products handed down from father to son. The day can also be combined with a visit to a Sicilian village, becoming a full day which begins with a site visit and itinerant tastings, a fast lunch with local products to then continue along the walk with the shepherds and finishes with the milking.
